

View Points

Graig Quarry, Grainrhyd

The rock faces in the quarry have not yet weathered and hence clearly display the rock strata which form some wonderful shapes and colours.

There are many public footpaths in the area of the quarry but to see these views you need to make your way up to the boundary fencing of the quarry.

If you now turn your back to the quarry you have delightful views of the Clwydian Range.

